J. Kalani Peterson is without a doubt the greatest authority on Hawaiian instruments in the country today. He is famous for his marvelous writings on these instruments and in editing and compiling this self-instructor for the ukulele, he has practically given the best that is in him, and we know that the student will be more than glad to receive his latest and best work.

The Publisher

PREFACE

In compiling this work I have accomplished something absolutely new and original in the method of selfinstruction for the ukulele. It is universally known among those connected with the musical profession that methods previously published claiming to be self- instructing prove, upon examination, to be only mere guides to the beginner. Too often a student will find it necessary to obtain the personal aid of one well versed in ukulele playing in order to be able to fully comprehend and satisfactorily understand other methods.

This method being so complete and accurate not only teaches art of ukulele playing, but, also the rudiments of music itself as well.

The attention of the student is respectfully invited to the fact that Professor Peterson will be more than glad to hear from his students in regard to his newest work.

Rudiments of Music

In order to play any musical instrument properly, it is important that the student be familiar with the rudiments of music itself which are briefly explained below.

THE CHARACTERS \circ \supset \rightarrow \rightarrow \rightarrow \rightarrow are called notes and indicate the pitch and time duration of all musical sounds.

Notes are named from the first seven letters of the alphabet: A.B.C. D. E. F. G. and are written in the spaces and on the lines of the Staff.

The Staff consists of five horizontal lines (viz.)

Extra lines added below or above the Staff are called ledger lines.

The vertical line through the Staff is called a Bar.

The double Bar shows the end of a strain.

The double dot before a double bar means that the whole movement from the preceeding double Bar is to be played again.

 \frown Placed over a note means that the tone of the note may be held as long as the performer wishes.

There are as many different kinds of Rests as there are notes. The Rest indicates that the performer should remain silent for the exact time which should be given to the note represented by the Rest.

Table showing relative time value of Notes and Rests.

Each Note or Rest shown above is twice the length of the succeeding.

A dot placed after a note increases its value one half.

When two dots are placed after a note, the second dot adds half the value of the first.

Copyright 1924 by Irving Berlin Inc. New York

THE SHARP # placed before a note indicates the note should be played one semitone, or one fret higher.

THE DOUBLE SHARP × raises a note one whole tone.

THE FLAT \flat placed before a note indicates the note to be played one semitone, or one fret lower.

THE DOUBLE FLAT by lowers a note one whole tone.

THE NATUREL \natural placed before a note restores it to its original pitch of tone.

The Signatures are indicated by the number of sharps or flats placed on the Staff after the \oint Clef sign and denotes the key in which music is to be played.

From one bar to another is termed a measure.

The constantly recurring accents in the measure describes the meter.

The first beat in a measure is played with a stronger accent than those that follow.

Explanation of Diagrams

The four verticle lines represent the strings of the UKULELE.

The horizontal lines represent the frets.

The black dots show where strings are to be pressed down with fingers of left hand.

The numerals show which finger to use.

1 means the index or first finger.

2 means the second finger.

3 means the third finger.

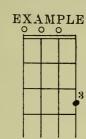

4 means the fourth finger.

0 means the string or strings before it is placed should be played open.

Shows the first string is to be played open, the second string pressed down at first fret with first finger, the third string to be played open, and the fourth string pressed down at second fret with second finger.

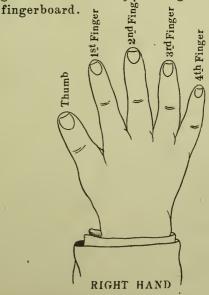

Shows first string is to be pressed down at third fret with third finger and the second, third, and fourth strings are to be played open.

Shows first string is to be pressed down at third fret with third finger, the second, third and fourth strings all are to be pressed down with first finger at second fret by barring it across

Strings

When in tune; the $1^{\underline{st}}$ string should correspond in tone with "A" above middle "C" on the piano. The $2^{\underline{nd}}$ string with "E" above middle "C". The $3^{\underline{rd}}$ string with middle "C", and the $4^{\underline{th}}$ string with "G" above middle "C".

HOW TO TUNE THE UKULELE

Tune $1^{\underline{st}}$ string to an "A" tuning fork or pitch pipe. Then press $4^{\underline{th}}$ string at $2^{\underline{nd}}$ fret and tune until the tone corresponds in unison with that of open first string. Then tune the $2^{\underline{nd}}$ string by pressing at $5^{\underline{th}}$ fret and tuning in unison with open "A" or $1^{\underline{st}}$ string. Then tune $3^{\underline{rd}}$ string by pressing at $4^{\underline{th}}$ fret and tuning in unison with open $2^{\underline{nd}}$ string.

Another way to tune where there is no piano, pitch pipe, or tuning fork to go by, is: Tune your 3rd or "C" string to a low pitch. Then press same at the 4th fret and tune your open 2nd string in unison. Then tune your 4th string by pressing 2nd string at 3rd fret and tuning open 4th string in unison. Then press 4th string at 2nd fret and tune your open 1st string in unison.

Use Violin E strings for the 1^{st} and 4^{th} strings.

the 1st and 4th strings. Use Violin A strings for 2nd and 3rd strings. NOTE. Some Students use a banjo 4th string wound on either silk or gut for the third string on the UKULELE. There is another way of tuning the UKULELE and in some music you will find the Diagram marked "D" instead of "C" as the chord.

This is called the "D" Tuning and each string of the UKULELE should be raised one whole tone. (viz.)

The first string to B instead of A.

The second string to F# instead of E.

The third string to D instead of C.

The fourth string to A instead of G.

Then when the chord is played as Diagram shows, you will be in pitch with any other instrument or instruments that may be playing in that key.

This rule pretains to all Diagrams that are changed from the C Tuning to the D Tuning.

HOLDING THE UKULELE

THE RIGHT HAND AND ARM.

The right forearm should hold the UKULELE gently yet firmly against the body as shown in illustration (fig. 1.)

Bend wrist so that fingers and thumb can strike the strings gracefully and with ease.

When striking strings, move fingers, hand and wrist in an up and down motion.

Move the forearm as little as possible when making strokes.

Strike strings above fingerboard at about 12^{th} fret as shown in illustration (fig. 2.)

THE LEFT HAND AND ARM

Let neck of the UKULELE rest between the ball of thumb and first joint of forefinger. The other fingers should be held in a curved manner as shown in illustration (fig. 3) so tips may easily be placed on any one of the four strings without touching the other strings.

The elbow of the left arm should rest lightly against the body.

Stop strings back of fret. (viz.) For first fret put finger against first fret in first space between the nut and first fret.

STROKES

Most of the Strokes are made with the thumb and first or (index) finger of right hand. The nail part of thumb being used for the up stroke and the nail part of first finger for the down stroke. Below the Student will find the principle strokes used in playing the UKULELE.

THE COMMON STROKE

With nail of thumb (right hand) begining with the first string a little above sound hole towards fingerboard, strike each string one after the other in a snappy upward motion. Then with nail of first finger begining at fourth string do the same in a downward motion.

Begin practicing slowly and do not strike strings very hard.

In $\frac{2}{4}$ time count two to the bar, (unless otherwise specified.)

In $\frac{3}{4}$ time count three to the bar.

In ¢ time count four to the bar.

U means up stroke.

D means down stroke.

····· means tremolo.

For tremolo stroke bring second, third, and fourth fingers into palm of hand. Then using first finger only, strike strings in a fast up and down motion.

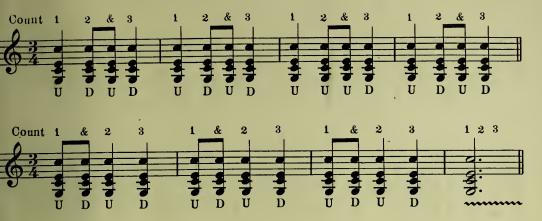

EXERCISES COMMON STROKES

STROKES (continued)

THE ROLL STROKE

This stroke is very effective in waltz or $\frac{3}{4}$ time. There are two kinds of Roll Strokes. The Down Roll and the Up Roll. For the Down Roll begin at the fourth string with little finger in a downward motion following with the third, second and first fingers, and the cushion of the thumb. Keep fingers about an inch apart.

For the Up Roll begin at first string with the nail of thumb and follow with the cushion of first, second, third and fourth fingers in an upward motion. It is just the reverse of the Up Roll.

EXERCISE DOWN ROLL

THE RAG STROKE

Use nail part of thumb and nail part of first finger in a fast up and down motion and count eight to the bar.

The sign (A) means to emphasize note over which it is placed. In other words strike that note with more force than the others.

THE SPANISH STROKE

Use ball of first finger and ball of thumb instead of the nail for this stroke.

Use the thumb for the down stroke and the first finger for the up stroke.

NOTE:

A good way to practice is to muffle strings by bringing fingers of left hand around over fingerboard pressing strings down gently so they will not quite touch the frets. Then with right hand strum as you would for any stroke you may wish to learn.

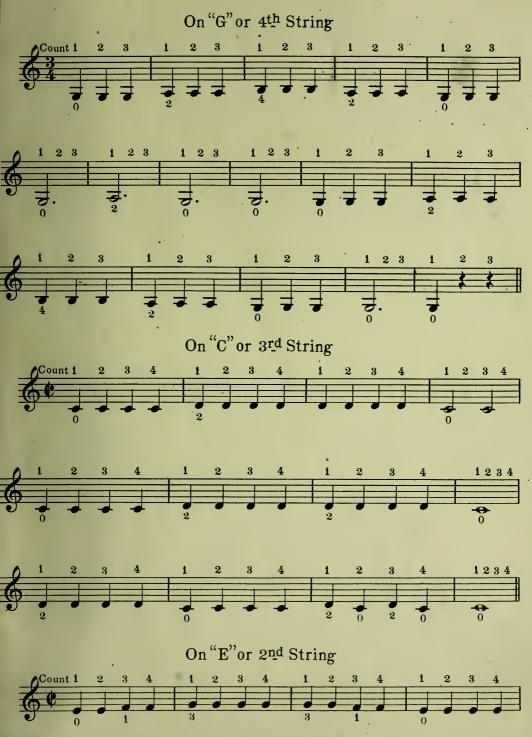

IMPORTANT:

Take your time in practicing and do not rush.

Always be sure your fingers are in right position before playing.

Many Students have an impression that they must strike strings with lots of force to produce tone. That is incorrect. Best tones are produced by striking strings lightly and slowly when first starting to practice. By so doing, the Student will soon have perfect control of the muscles of the fingers and hand that are brought into use. To be a good player this is essential.

EXERCISES

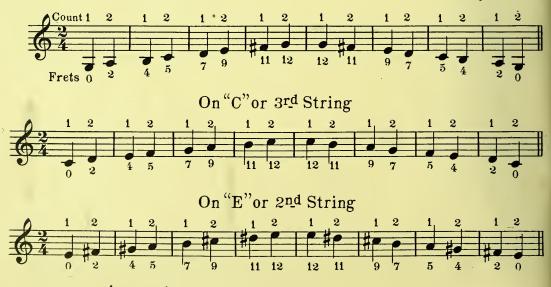

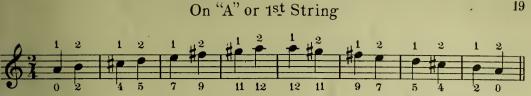

SCALES ON ALL STRINGS On "G" or 4th String

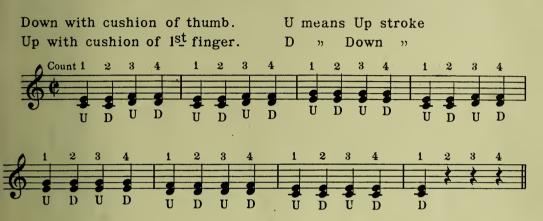

Music for the 4th string is written one octave lower than played.

Pick the 3^{rd} and 4^{th} strings with thumb. Pick the 1^{st} and 2^{nd} strings with first finger.

Exercise on 2nd and 3rd Strings

Scale of C Major on 3rd, 2nd and 1st Srings

Exercise on 3rd, 2nd and 1st Strings

Pick with thumb and 1st finger starting with thumb then following with 1st finger.

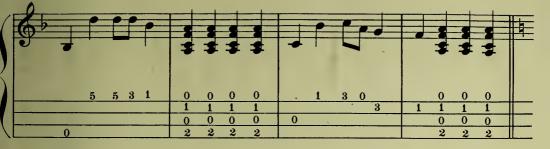

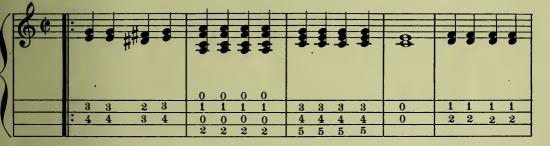

Koumaka Aloha

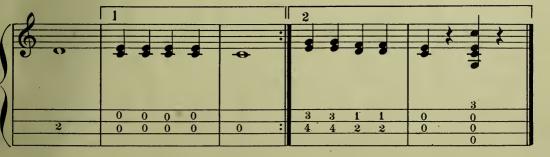

NOTE. The four lines below the staff represent the four Ukulele strings. The top line represents the 1^{st} string the next line the 2^{nd} string the next line the 3^{rd} string and the bottom line the 4^{th} string.

The numerals over lines show where frets are to be pressed down. For instance a 3 over the 1^{st} line would mean the 3^{rd} fret of the 1^{st} string was to be pressed down. An 0 over a line means the string should be played open. When there are a number of figures one under the other, it means they are to be played together.

NOTE. Where there is no tremolo sign over note, use ball of thumb in a downward stroke.

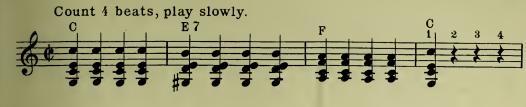

EXERCISES

Play slowly counting 3 beats to each measure.

Use thumb for $1^{\underline{st}}$ beat in each measure with an up stroke and the $1^{\underline{st}}$ finger for the $2^{\underline{nd}}$ and $3^{\underline{rd}}$ beat with a down stroke.

DIAGRAM OF CHORDS

Each Major Key has three important changes of chords. Namely: TON-IC, SUB-DOMINANT and DOMINANT.

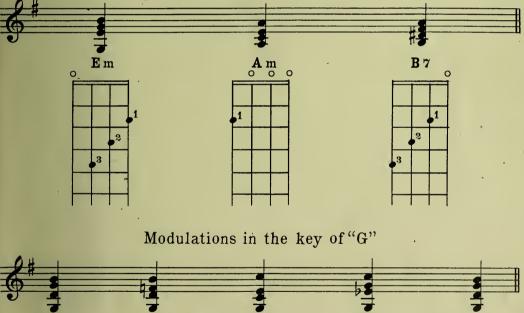

Each Major Key has a relative Minor Key in which there are three changes of chords.

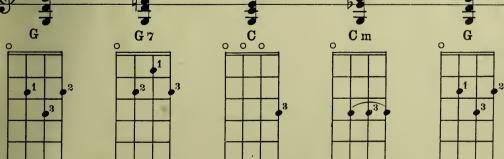

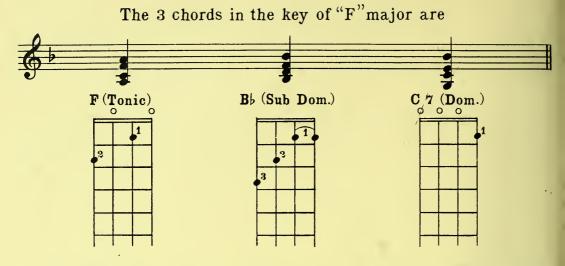

NOTE. In practising take four strokes to each chord, practise slowly at first and be sure your fingers are in right position on strings before playing. Keep fingers close to frets back of which black dots are placed.
