

THE POPULAR SONGS
AND MELODIES OF SCOTLAND

BALMORAL

EDITION

WITH NOTES
BY
G. FARQUHAR GRAHAM
Revised & Enlarged.

WATSON & CO.

BAYLEY & FERGUSON
LONDON & GLASGOW

THE BONNIE BANKS O' LOCH LOMOND.

ARRANGED BY A. C. MACKENZIE.

♩ = 88

IN MODERATE TIME.

yon bonnie banks, and by yon bonnie braes, Where the sun shines bright on Loch Lomond, There there that we part - ed in yon bonnie glen, On the steep steep side o' Ben Lomond, Where in me and my true love spent mo-ny happy days, On the bonnie bonnie banks o' Loch Lomond. pur - ple hue the Highland hills we view, And the moon glints out in the gloamin'.

me and my true love spent mo-ny happy days, On the bonnie bonnie banks o' Loch Lomond. pur - ple hue the Highland hills we view, And the moon glints out in the gloamin'.

Slightly quicker.

ye'll tak' the high road, An' I'll tak' the low road, An' I'll be in Scotland be - fore ye: But trouble it is there, An' many hearts are sair, On the bonnie bonnie banks o' Loch Lomond.

Lomond.

There the wild flowers spring, and the wee birdies sing,
 And in sunshine the waters are sleepin' ;
 But the broken heart it kens nae second spring,
 Though resigned we may be while we're greetin' .
 O ye'll tak' the high road, etc.

"THE BONNIE BANKS O' LOCH LOMOND." The air is traditional, but of what age is uncertain; it has been more or less sung for the last forty years, though it has only become generally known since Miss Macleod included it in her "Songs of the North." The words, like the air, are very simple and unpretending.