EDITORIAL NOTE

- These old Shanties* are so arranged that they may be sung in any one of five ways:—(a) Solos with harmonized chorus; (b) Solos with unison chorus; (c) Solos throughout; (d) Solo and harmonized chorus without accompaniment; (e) Solo and unison chorus without accompaniment. In the old days aboard ship they were never sung otherwise than in the last-named fashion.
- (2) They are further arranged in a sequence of keys so that the whole or part of them may be sung in succession as a single 'selection' (in which case only one or two verses of each should be sung), or single ones may be sung as separate items with all their verses.
- (3) Although the solos are all written on the Tenor line they will of course be sung by either Tenor or Bass voices, according to their range.
- (4) Although a pianoforte accompaniment and additional vocal parts have been supplied, the melodies of the Shanties have nowhere been tampered with.
- (5) The instrumental introduction to each Shanty should only be played before the first verse unless the tunes are sung as solos throughout.
- (6) Small notes in the accompaniment are only to be played if the Shanty is sung in unison.
- (7) The words have necessarily been 'toned down' in places.
- (8) The metronome marks are only approximate. Landsmen usually sing Shanties much faster than the old sailors did. Even those tunes which to the landsmen appear rollicking in character were sung aboard ship with almost pompous solemnity.
- (9) It is suggested that singers would do well to exercise their ingenuity in supplying additional words of their own of a local or topical character, as was always done at sea. After a few stereotyped verses, the Shantyman extemporized fresh words according to his humour. The task was rendered the less difficult as rhymes were not required and seldom occurred.

Sailor Shanties

(FIRST SELECTION) ARRANGED FOR SOLO AND CHORUS OF MEN'S VOICES by R. R. TERRY.

1. GOOD MORNING LADIES ALL. (Halliard Shanty.)

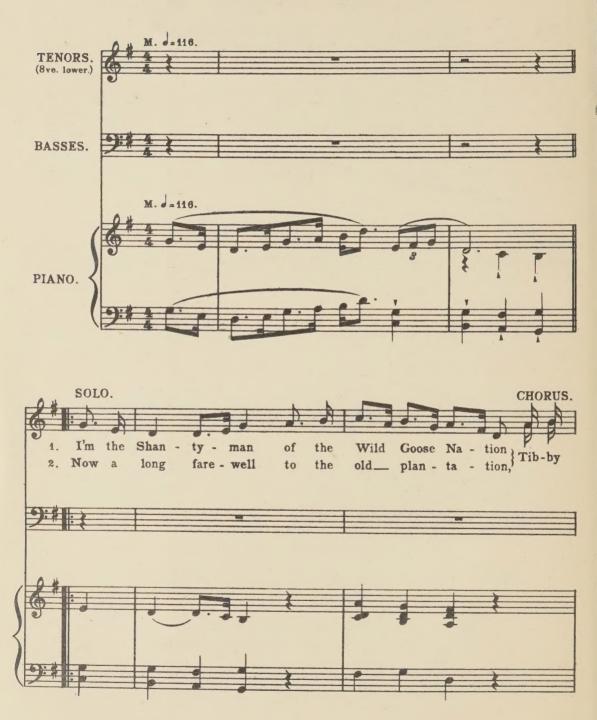

Copyright, 1919, by J. Curwen & Sons Ltd.

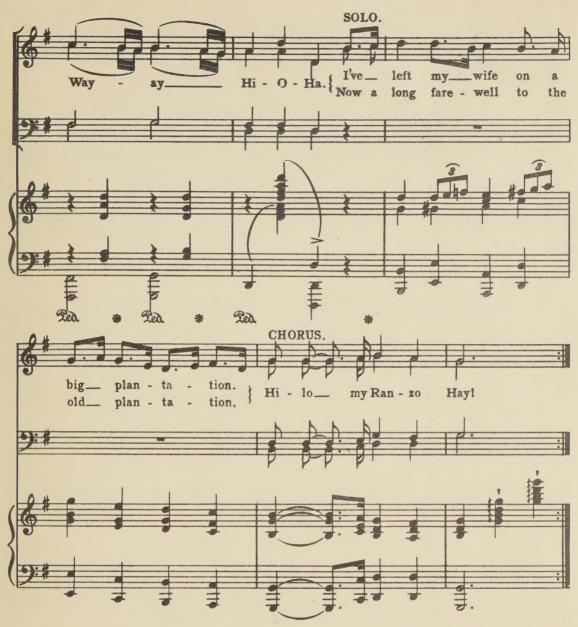

- 3. And when we get to New York Town, Oh it's there we'll drink, and sorrow drown.
- When we're back once more in London Docks, All the pretty girls will come in flocks.
- 5. And Poll, and Bet, and Sue will say "Oh it's here comes Jack with his three years' pay."
- 6. So a long good-bye to you my dear. And a last farewell, and a long farewell.

2. THE WILD GOOSE SHANTY.

(Windlass and Capstan.)

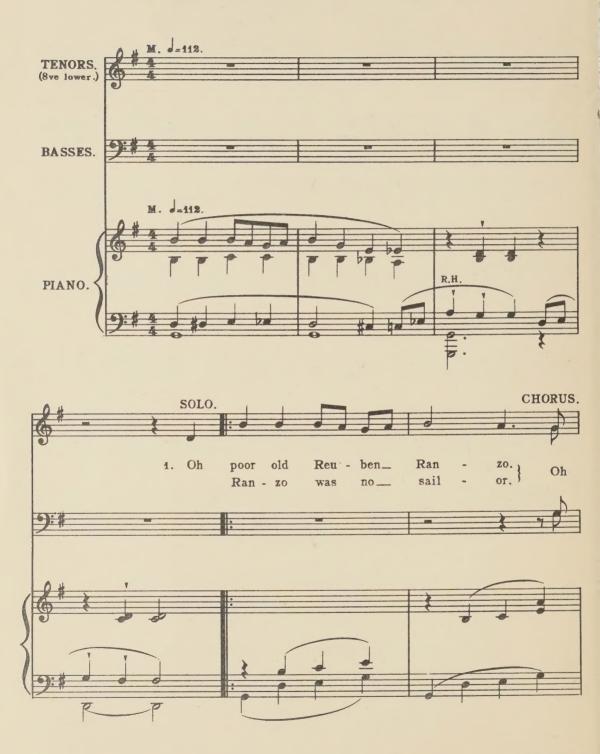

- 3. And a long farewell to the Wild Goose Nation. (trice)
- 4. For the anchor's weighed, and the breeze is a beam of us. (twice)
- 5. Then goodbye and farewell you rolling river. (twice)
- 6. I'm the Shanty-man of the Wild Goose Nation. I've left my wife on a big plantation.

3. REUBEN RANZO.

(Halliards.)

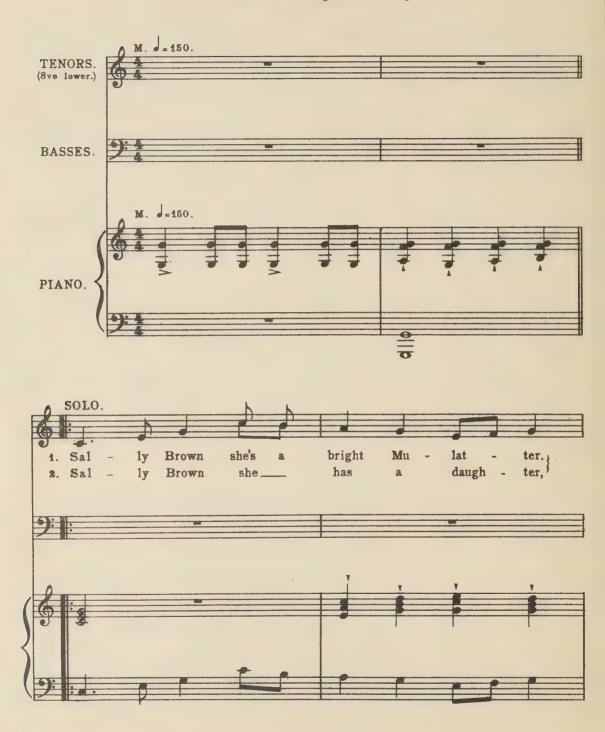

CURVEN

- Oh Ranzo was no beauty.
 Why couldn't he do his duty?
- 5. Oh Ranzo washed once a fortnight. We said it was his birthright.
- 6. They triced up this man so dirty, And gave him five-and-thirty.*
- 7. Oh poor old Reuben Ranzo.
 Ah pity poor Reuben Ranzo.

4. SALLY BROWN.

(Windlass and Capstan Shanty.)

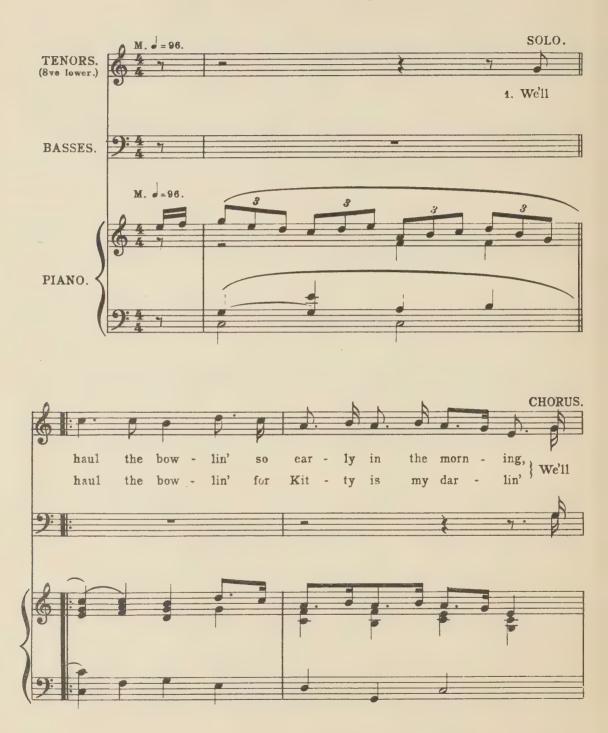

- 8. Seven long years I courted Sally (twice)
- Sally Brown I'm bound to leave you.
 Sally Brown I'll not deceive you.
- 5. Sally she's a 'Badian[®] beauty (twice)
- Sally lives on the old plantation.
 She belongs the Wild Goose Nation.
- 7. Sally Brown is a bright Mulatter. She drinks rum and chews terbacker.

🗢 i.e. Barbadian, to wit a native of Barbados.

5. WE'LL HAUL THE BOWLIN.'

(Fore Sheet Shanty.)

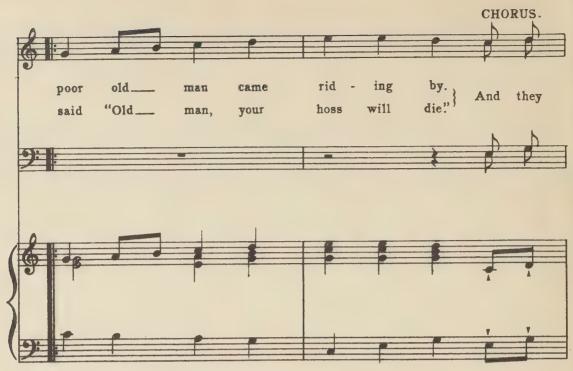

- 8. We'll haul the bowlin'; the fore-to'-gallant bowlin'.
- 4. We'll haul the bowlin'; the skipper is a growlin'.
- 5. We'll haul the bowlin'; the packet is a rollin?
- 6. We'll haul the bowlin' so early in the morning.

The last word (haul) of the Chorus is not sung but shouted staccato.

50571

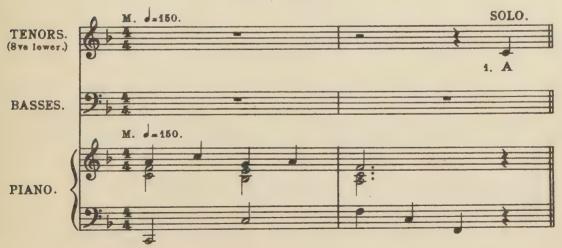

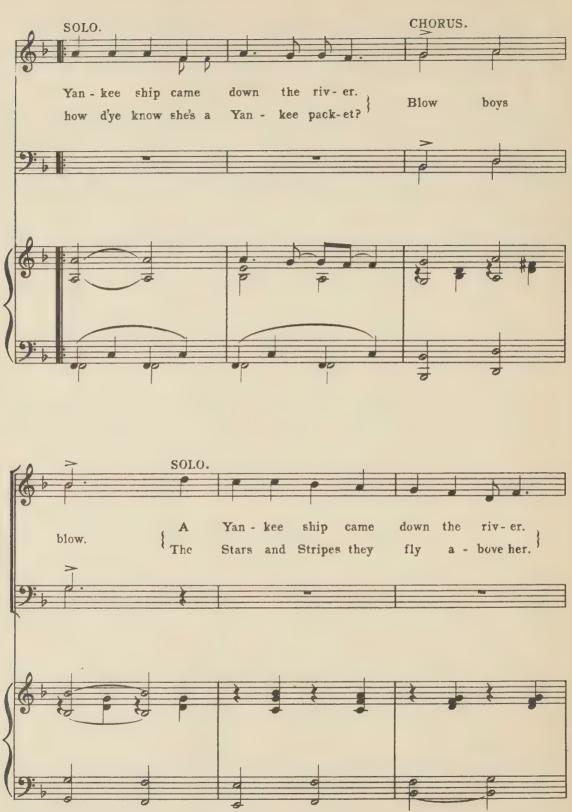

- 8. And if he dies I'll tan his skin. (twice)
- 4. And if he lives you'll ride again. (twice)
- 5. I thought I heard the skipper say. (twice)
- 6. Oh one more pull and then belay. (trice)
- 7. A poor old man came riding by. (twice)

7. BLOW MY BULLY BOYS. (Halliards.)

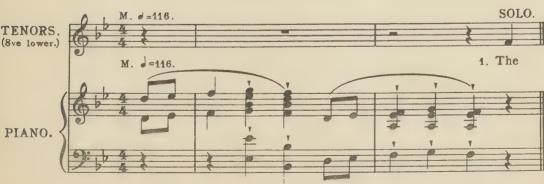

- 8. And who d'ye think was skipper of her? (twice)
- 4. 'Twas Dandy Jim, the one-eyed nigger;
 'Twas Dandy Jim with his bully figure.
- And what d'ye think they had for dinner? Why bullock's lights and donkey's liver.
- 6. And what d'ye think they had for supper? Why weevilled bread and Yankee leather.
- Then blow my boys, and blow together;
 And blow my boys for better weather.

8. A Yankee ship came down the river. (trice)

8. HILO SOMEBODY.

(Interchangeable Shanty.)

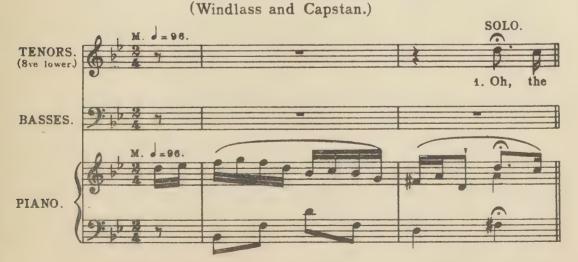

^{*} The small notes should only be played when the Chorus is sung in Unison.

- We sailed away to Mobile Bay. (tmice) 8.
- But now we're bound for London Town. (twice) 4.
- Then up aloft this yard must go. (twice) 5.
- I thought I heard the old man say. (twice) 6.
- Hooray my boys we're homeward bound. (twice) 7.
- The blackbird sang unto our crew. (twice) 8.

9. LET THE BULLGINE RUN.

*Except when this Shanty is sung in unison, the Tenors must sing the passages indicated by dotted brack 50571 ets an octave higher. CURWEN

- Oh the gels are walking on the pier,
 And I'll soon be home to you my dear.
- 4. Oh when I come home across the sea, It's Lizer you will married be.

1 4 3

- 5. Oh shake her, wake her, before we're gone; Oh fetch that gel with the blue dress on.
- 6. O I thought I heard the skipper say "We'll keep the brig three points away."
- Oh the smartest clipper you can find,
 $ $ $ $ $ $ $
 Is the Marget Evans of the Blue Cross line.

EDITION

THE SHANTY BOOKS

Collected and Edited with Pianoforte Accompaniment by RICHARD RUNCIMAN TERRY With a Foreword by Sir Walter Runciman, Bart.

Sir Richard Terry has made the subject of Sailor Shanties his own, as his lectures throughout the country have shown. His collections each contain about thirty shanties arranged for solo singing with optional unison chorus. They group together a wide variety of shanty culled from different parts of the coast, and dealing with the various aspects of the sailor's craft. Each work contains an interesting introduction in which the history and use of Shanties is explained; how they were sung, and the words used. A detailed note on each shanty is given describing its character and use. All unusual words are explained.
